FEATURED SPEAKERS

Andrea Leep Hunderfund, MD, MHPE

Associate Professor of Neurology
Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine

Andrea Leep Hunderfund is Associate Professor of Neurology and Consultant in the Neurology Department at Mayo Clinic, Rochester. She is Director for Learning Environment and Educational Culture at Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine, Associate Director for Clinical Learning Environment Optimization at Mayo Clinic School of Graduate Medical Education, Associate Director of the Mayo Clinic Program in Professionalism and Values, and Quality Chair for the Mayo Clinic, Rochester Department of Neurology. Her scholarly work aspires to support healthcare leaders, faculty, staff, students and patients in co-creating environments that reflect our professional values, promote learning and better serve our communities.

John Luk serves as the assistant dean for interprofessional integration at Dell Medical School, and works with colleagues and stakeholders to create experiences that will prepare graduates to be effective team players, communicators and leaders. On campus, he serves on the Health Interprofessional Practice and Education Steering Committee, helping to create the UT Austin Center for Health IPE. He has presented regionally and nationally on medical education and interprofessional education. He serves as the inaugural director of the Dell Medical School Academy of Distinguished Educators and was selected as a 2018 member of The University of Texas Kenneth I. Shine, M.D., Academy of Health Science Education.

Dr. Luk also cares for hospitalized children and their families at Dell Children's Medical Center of Central Texas. His passion to better prepare physicians for 21st-century healthcare practice has also led him to work with premedical college students on healthcare ethics and professional identity formation.

John Luk, MD

Assistant Dean for Interprofessional Education
Associate Professor of Pediatrics and Medical Education
Distinguished Teaching Professor
Dell Medical School at The University of Texas at Austin

Bonnie Miller, MD, MMHC

Professor of Medical Education and Administration
Vice President for Educational Affairs
Vanderbilt University Medical Center
KNN Senior Director for Academic Communication

Bonnie Miller serves as Vice President for Educational Affairs at Vanderbilt University Medical Center. In this role, she promotes innovative approaches to continuing professional development and serves as an advisor for medical education across the continuum.

Dr. Miller formerly served as Senior Associate Dean for Health Sciences Education at Vanderbilt University School of Medicine. In this role, she oversaw all programs related to physician education, from the medical school admissions process to continuing professional development.

With academic interests in the moral and professional development of physicians, curriculum change and continuous learning in medicine, Dr. Miller has been recognized as a senior leader in medical education.

Chris Stawski is Senior Fellow at the Kern Family Foundation. He works to build relational networks and co-develop strategic directions to integrate the Foundation's focus areas in character, entrepreneurial mindset and creating value for others. He is also Affiliate Assistant Professor at the Kern Institute for the Transformation of Medical Education at the Medical College of Wisconsin, where he works to integrate character into medical education. He is effective in working with opinion-leading experts, emerging talent and colleagues in philanthropy, nonprofit organizations and academia who have the potential to advance breakthrough ideas to transform culture, knowledge and society.
